Rap Brown Associate, One Other Negro Die In Blast

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — Two Negro men were killed when a bomb blew up their car as it traveled on U.S. Route 1 south of here late Monday night. One was identified as Ralph Featherstone, 31, a former associate of H. Rap Brown who is on trial here charged with arson and inciting to riot.

State Police Col. Thomas Smith said investigators believed the explosive was being transported by the two occupants but he did not eliminate the possibility that it had been planted in the car by someone else.

Attorney William M. Kuntler, who is representing Brown at the trial, said he would ask for a postponement.

Featherstone was a former associate of Brown in the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

The other Negro in the car which was destroyed was not identified. Smith said "no" emphatically to inquiries about whether the second victim was Brown.

The body of the second man had papers with three different names.

Kuntler said he had not been informed by State Police that the possibility of the second dead man being Brown had been ruled out.

"No one has heard from Brown," the lawyer said. "Brown's wife still hasn't; she is standing by the telephone."

The car was heading toward Baltimore, 25 miles away. The 1964 model car was torn apart, some pieces landing 50 yards away. The car was burned out and the blast put depressions in the highway.

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland ordered a National Guard unit and all State Police tactical units on an alert.

On Monday pretrial motions in Brown's case were argued in this community of 5,000.

Kuntler said today he would propose an indefinite delay in the trial.

When asked whether it was because of the explosion and deaths, Kuntler replied, "The atmosphere here is so bad that nothing can make any difference."

Market Group Holding U.S. Purse Strings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hopes for easier money shared by President Nixon and hard-pressed consumers alike ride on the four newest members of the Federal Open Market Committee, normally a little-noticed group of men with a passion for secrecy.

The four, presidents of federal reserve banks in Cleveland, Richmond, St. Louis and San Francisco, officially began their one-year terms March 1 but got their first chance to vote on money policy today, the month's first meeting date for the 12-member committee.

Whatever today's decision, if any basic changes came about, it won't be made public for 90 days. During that period, summaries of FOMC action are among the most tightly guarded secrets in government because leaks could cause traumatic shocks in the stock markets.

The committee's responsibility is to manage the Federal Reserve System's portfolio of more than $50 billion in U.S. Treasury securities which, because of its size, can have a profound effect on the New York bond market, the money supply and interest rates in general.

The Open Market Committee is an extension of the seven-man Federal Reserve Board, the supreme court of monetary matters and one of the most independent of all federal agencies.

Its new chairman, former presidential adviser Arthur F. Burns, whose direction on tight money is still to be formally disclosed, has given some indication he thinks restraints should ease.

President Of GM Saves $12,000 By Not Paying Taxes

DETROIT (AP)—Federal Tax Court in Detroit has ordered General Motors President Edward N. Cole to pay $2,180.48 in unpaid income taxes — about $12,000 less than the Internal Revenue Service said Cole and his wife owed.

The IRS was attempting to collect $14,615.53 after disallowing a number of deductions Cole claimed primarily for business entertaining in the years 1964-66.

According to an IRS memo, Cole in 1966 had a "corrected taxable income" of $338,842.02.

An IRS official said Cole's situation was not unusual. "It's common and it happens to all sorts of people," he said.

Indian Raid Fails, Jane On New Trail

SEATTLE (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda, repulsed along with a band of Indians in a raid on an Army fort, says she now plans a cross-country tour in support of servicemen who are antiwar.

Referring bitterly to her weekend arrest at Ft. Lewis, Miss Fonda told a news conference Monday:

"Bob Hope was greeted differently by the local branch of the military-industrial complex. But then I had not come to glamorize war or to urge young men to go to fight."

Miss Fonda, 32, was detained for three hours at Ft. Lewis Sunday after joining several hundred Indians earlier in an attempt to take over land in Seattle's Ft. Lawton to set up an Indian educational and cultural center. About 85 persons were arrested at the two bases.

"I hear from the GIs that we need a GI bill of rights, and from the Indians that we need an Indian bill of rights," said Miss Fonda.

"We've got a bill of rights. Why isn't it being put through?" Her remarks were punctuated by war whoops from demonstrating Indians.

"Anyone who comes onto a base to speak out of concern for the GIs—their opposition to the war and their fight for democratic rights—is banned," she said.

"In this country, the only way a minority can get anything done is to make a little noise."

Miss Fonda said she planned

Foreign Aid Plan Shakeup Seen Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) After 22 years of operation, punctuated by periodic shakeups, the U.S. foreign aid program is facing the most radical reorganization in its history.

In line with a presidential task force's recommendation for dramatic reforms, President Nixon has promised a "new approach" to foreign assistance.

The White House fight for overseas assistance funds has grown far more difficult in recent years with many congressmen seeking to cut U.S. costs and involvement abroad. Nixon obviously hopes the new approach will make the whole foreign assistance establishment more acceptable on Capitol Hill.

The President won't send his final recommendations to Congress until next January, but officials feel the broad outline of his final proposals was set out in the report issued last week-end by the task force headed by former Bank of America President Rudolph A. Peterson.

The Peterson report, highly praised by Nixon, calls for dismantling the present foreign assistance organization, the Agency for International Development, and scattering its functions among five new or reorganized divisions.

The report also called for greater emphasis on international cooperation, increased use of international agencies and more responsibility by underdeveloped nations for planning and administering aid programs.

At present, aid is the product of a frequently reformed system of foreign assistance administration going back officially to April 1948, but actually with an even longer history.

Fire Razes Home; 4 Children Die

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Four children perished Monday when fire swept a home on the East Side of this southwestern Michigan city.

Killed in the fire were Tammy James, 3; her brother, Dennis James, 1; Mary Ann Griffin, 16 months; and her sister, Rochelle Renee Griffin, two months. The James children lived with their mother, Vera Lee James in an upstairs apartment in the house. The Griffin children were visiting.

Fire Chief Ralph Heatherington said several other children were led to safety from the flames by a 7-year-old girl, whose identity was not immediately known.

Heatherington said Mrs. James was not at home when the fire started. He said a woman who was babysitting for the children had left the house for a few minutes and was not there when the flames erupted.

Examination

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A 27-year-old Grand Rapids man has demanded examination on charges of manslaughter, negligent homicide and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident after a crippled man was killed Sunday.

Michael F. Runions was arrested about 15 minutes after Frederick N. Schwartz was struck and killed by a pickup truck while crossing the street early Sunday. Bond for Runions was set at $5,000.

Boyle Denies Part In Yablonski Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) — W.A. "Tony" Boyle, embattled president of the United Mine Workers, has sworn to God he had nothing to do with the slaying of his union opponent, Joseph E. Yablonski.

After taking an oath before reporters "to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," the union chief Monday also denied rigging his election victory over Yablonski for UMW president.

"I categorically deny these scandalous, insulting accusations," Boyle said, then charged the news media and government agencies with unfairly linking him with Yablonski's death and election irregularities.

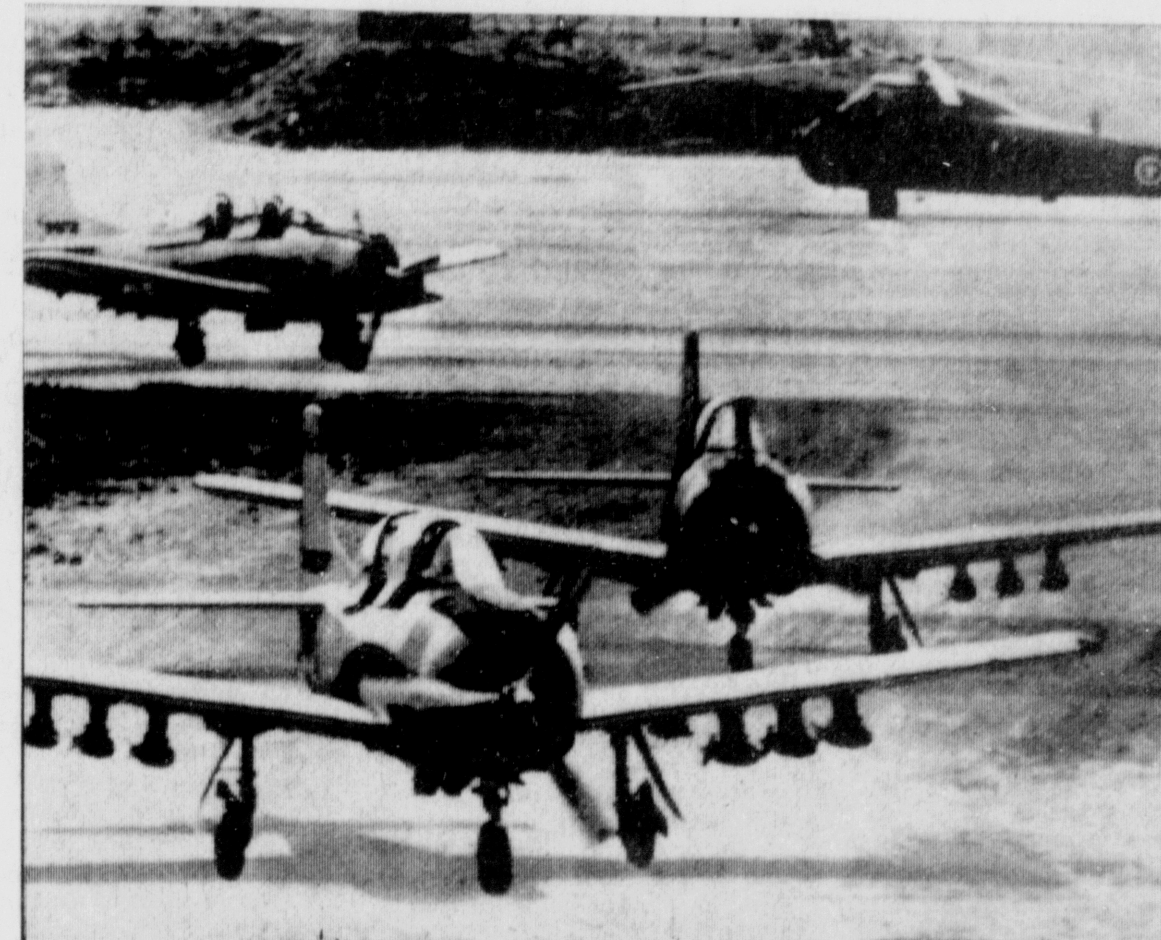

Yablonski, his wife and daughter were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home last Dec. 31 about three weeks after the election.

President Says

Casualties In Laos To Be Reported To U.S. Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid congressional charges he is dodging demands for disclosure of U.S.-Laotian involvement, President Nixon has ordered the public release of American casualties and air losses as they occur in the Southeast Asian conflict.

6 Civilians Killed
In announcing the policy change Monday night, the White House disclosed six civilians were killed in Laos last year as the result of hostile enemy action.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the administration will immediately "inform the American public about all military aircraft losses and military air personnel casualties in Laos once search-and-rescue missions are completed."

Casualties Lumped
Ziegler said this is the same policy followed on Vietnam losses. In the past, casualties in Laos have been lumped with those of Southeast Asia as a whole.

Of the six civilians, all described as having support rather than active military roles, three were killed by ambush, one was shot as he was piloting a helicopter, and two were killed by what the White House called possible hostile fire.

Three worked for International Voluntary Services, described as a Peace Corps type organization, and three for Air America, an airlifter of supplies, equipment and people.

Under Contract
Both organizations were under contract with the Agency for International Development, the State Department said. Meanwhile, the Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions that CIA agents posing as members of the agency are involved in military operations in Laos.

Parochial Foes Oil Guns Again

LANSING (AP)—Parochial opponents in the Michigan House sought today to break the fragile, two-vote margin of a coalition that last week passed a $1.2-billion school aid bill proposing $22 million for sectarian schools.

Ruling Challenged
They also planned to challenge Democratic Speaker William A. Ryan's ruling that the parochial section was not a "private purpose" appropriation which, under the 1963 State Constitution, requires passage by a two-thirds majority.

The House approved the record school aid by a 57-50 vote last Thursday, and GOP Minority Leader Robert E. Waldron called for a reconsideration of that vote. Waldron's motion delays the bill's return to the Senate, which is expected to reject the lower chamber's addition of some $250 million and throw the bill into a joint conference committee.

Bill Shaving Possible
The committee is expected to shave the bill considerably, although not all the way down to the $949-million level requested by Gov. William G. Milliken in his January State of the State address.

The controversial parochial section is virtually the only feature that the House version has in common with the original bill that the Senate passed late last year. A substitute, the House measure proposes vastly increased spending levels predicated on a companion measure to raise state income tax rates by nine-tenths of one per cent and authorize school districts to

T28 Bombers Fly Missions Against foe

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces ambushed a small Laotian army convoy 14 miles south of the royal capital of Luang Prabang today, killing five government soldiers and seriously wounding eight others.

Rockets Fired
The Communist forces opened up with rocket grenades and automatic weapons as the trucks were moving on a road just off route 13, the highway between Luang Prabang and Vientiane, 140 miles to the south.

Earlier, the chief of staff of the northern military region, Col. Bouachanh, told reporters in Luang Prabang that about 400 government troops launched an operation today, to recapture an outpost on the Mekong River that the Pathet Lao captured Friday.

The outpost, Muong Ngeun, is just across the river from Thailand 60 miles west-northwest of Luang Prabang.

Bombers Hit Back
Laotian air force T28 bombers flew at least four missions against enemy positions in the hills overlooking the town.

AP Photographer Horst Faas, who flew in the back seat of one of the T28s, reported the town was deserted but not damaged. He said there was no sign of fighting and no evidence of government troops.

Meanwhile, the Pathet Lao said it is sending a top-ranking officer to Vientiane at the "earliest date possible" to deliver the Laotian Communists' peace proposal to Premier Souvanna Phouma.

Meeting Scheduled
"The sooner the better," Prince Souvanna replied. He scheduled a Cabinet meeting for Wednesday to take up the proposal, which calls for a political conference of all Laotian factions, a provisional coalition government, establishment of a demilitarized zone, a standstill cease-fire and an end to U.S. intervention.

The peace program is being brought from Sam Neua, the Pathet Lao capital in northeast Laos, by Col. Thavinh Sienkahn. He is described as a senior aide to Prince Souphanouvong, the titular leader of the Pathet Lao and Prince Souvanna Phouma's half brother.

Parochial Foes Oil Guns Again

adopt their own income taxes of as much as two per cent.

Latest Challenge
The latest parochial challenge mounted in the House is very similar to one that arose, briefly, in the Senate last December. President Pro Tem Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, ruled the bill should have a two-thirds majority, but the Senate reversed that ruling by an 18-17 vote.

Rep. John P. Smeekens, R-Sherwood, a Catholic, asked Ryan Monday night for a procedural ruling that the bill, while an appropriation, did not come under the "local or private purposes" definition of Article 4, Section 30.

"Upon receipt of that ruling, I shall ask for a roll call vote on that ruling," Smeekens said. Ryan, principal legislative advocate of parochial, cited as a precedent a similar 1966 ruling by the late House Speaker Joseph Kowalski.

Public Purpose Law
"If we needed two thirds," Ryan said, "medicaid, old age assistance, aid to dependent children and state scholarships for private college students would have to have it, too. 'The courts have ruled many times that money appropriated to private institutions can be for a public purpose,' Ryan said. "In fact, every law has some public purpose."

C&NW Told It May Abandon Felch Line

The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the petition of the Chicago & North Western Railway to abandon a branch line between Narenta in Delta County and Felch in Dickinson County.

Notice of the order, dated Feb. 11, was received by industries, individuals and agencies who sought to prevent the abandonment of the line. The North Western is reported to have made a "last run" with empty cars in preparation for taking out loads along the 35 miles of line prior to abandonment.

Opponents of the abandonment have until tomorrow — March 11 — to file appeals. Then the C&NW has 20 days in which to file replies.

An appeal to the order has been filed by the Michigan Public Service Commission, said Halmer Dahlgren, secretary-treasurer, Felch Quarry Corp.

James Moran, ICC examiner, presided at the September hearing in Escanaba when protests against the proposed abandonment were heard. Among them was Michigan Public Service Commission, which Dahlgren said is filing a preliminary to the appeal through C. E. Magoon, director of the railroad division of the Commission.

Opposed By Many
Appearing in opposition to the abandonment were Dahlgren,

Roger Stebbins, Perronville sawmill owner; Marshall Robbette, Hardwood store owner; Robert Charlebois, Hardwood farmer-logger; M. S. Reid, administrative assistant to Congressman Philip Ruppe of the 11th Congressional District; Donald K. Goulais, Escanaba, assistant State Attorney General; Oliver Gedvick, Foster City logger; A. F. Ventrella, Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees; Oswald Vispi, Dickinson County Road Commission superintendent-engineer; Thad D. Isham, I&L Hardwood Uranium Co.; Merton D. Jensen, Sawyer-Stoll Timber Co., Escanaba; Kenneth Johnson, Felch Co-Op Store manager and other area residents.

In issuing his abandonment permit, the hearing examiner listed the following points made in opposition:

1. That C&NW is losing money on the line but under the 50 per cent formula the loss is more theoretical than actual.

Lack Of Maintenance
2. There is no practical alternative transportation service available to the producers and shippers of the whole area served by the branch line.

3. The condition of the line is directly and solely attributable to C&NW's lack of maintenance over a 30-year period.

4. The economic future of the affected three-county area is totally dependent upon rail shipments.

5. The volume of traffic prior to the removal of the line from service exceeded that which prevailed at the time C&NW withdrew its abandonment application 19 years ago.

6. That new traffic is imminent because of the development of a uranium deposit within the area that will be completely dependent upon rail service.

7. The modest present book-keeping loss on the line cannot and should not be allowed to outweigh the manifest public necessity and convenience that requires restoration of service on the branch line and a continued, dependable service though on a modified basis.

In his discussion and conclusions of the hearing, Moran stated:

"The evidence shows that C&NW's financial condition is not strong. Its net railway operating income deficits amounted to more than $24 million for the past 2.5 years and during the same time its ordinary income deficits were nearly $25 million.

Operating Losses
"For a three-year period ending Dec. 31, 1968, its annual operating losses on the branch line ranged between $32,000 and $48,000.

"The revenue from the branch line is derived mostly from handling of pulpwood and logs. Pulpwood traffic appears to be a deficit commodity and it does not appear that there will be an increase in this type of traffic on the branch line that would eliminate the operating losses. The evidence concerning the development of a uranium deposit is not impressive."

"The evidence discloses that it will cost $1.4 million to reconstruct the branch line to provide reliable service and an annual expenditure of $62,445 would be required to maintain the line in a good condition.

"It does not appear that C&NW should be required to make such expenditures when the evidence fails to show that the branch line can be operated so as to recoup those expenditures and to eliminate future operating losses.

Recognizes Effect
"The commission recognizes that every abandonment will have some adverse effect on shippers in local communities; yet a vital or critical need by a shipper of a community is not determinative of the issue of public convenience and necessity. The demonstrated needs must be measured against the past, present and future burden on interstate commerce. "Since the branch line was removed from service protestants have used, and no doubt must continue to use a longer and more inconvenient truck haul to rail loading points on

Board To Meet At Rapid River

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will consider several financial matters when it meets at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Rapid River School.

The meeting was originally scheduled last week, but was postponed because of bad weather.

A request by the County Library Board for an additional 1970 appropriation and a request by Pinecrest Medical Care Facility for a deficiency appropriation for 1970 will be considered, along with bids for ambulance service and tax roll writing equipment.

In addition, the Board also will discuss the 1971 appropriation for Pinecrest and schedule meeting dates for Finance Committee work on the 1971 budget.

Other items on the agenda released by County Clerk William E. Butler include notice of a federal case against major drug companies, a letter from the Escanaba city manager on Mayor's Exchange Day of Michigan Week, notice of the Michigan Association of Counties district meeting and discussion of inland lake levels.

the Milwaukee Road, E&LS, and other points on the C&NW. "The continued operation of the branch line would impose an undue burden on interstate commerce and the examiner concludes that the authority sought should be issued authorizing the abandonment of the line, subject to conditions."

Three Employees To Leave Forest Service Staff

Three Forest Service employees were honored recently at a noon luncheon at the Stone House Restaurant. Mrs. Susan Allen, Mrs. Anna Ryan and Steven Froum will be leaving Forest Service employment.

Mrs. Allen is receptionist in the Escanaba office and Mrs. Ryan is the mail and file records clerk.

"The reduction in the workload caused by the federal cut-back in funding gave us no alternative but to re-organize our staff and to eliminate these two positions," said Al Troutt, forest supervisor.

Froum came to Hiawatha National Forest from White Mountain National Forest and after two years as personnel management specialist, has accepted a position with the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C.

The Froums, Steve, his wife Sharon, and daughter Leah Rachel, resided at 1308 1st Ave. S.

New Telephone Service Begins

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today launched a new service program committed to aiding customers who are dissatisfied with the handling of their telephone problems.

Warren B. Alexander, general manager of the company's northern area, said a service action team has been set up to help when customers feel they are getting only "polite attention" or when normal operating routines have failed to satisfy their requests.

"Our customers expect and deserve excellent service and that is what we're providing for the vast majority of them," Alexander said. "But occasionally we boot one. When we do, we want our customers to complain about it — to us."

Alexander said the new team would concentrate on such problems as delays in installation of service, missed appointments, recurring out-of-service conditions and all sorts of service problems.

Alexander pointed out that there cannot be an instant solution to every problem. But he emphasized that the service action team is designed to bring a new dimension to telephone service by providing a "second effort" to assure customer satisfaction.

Thomas J. Straebel of Escanaba, area manager, explained that the new team will function as a backup group.

The service representative will be able, as now, to handle most calls about telephone problems. Straebel pointed out, where needs cannot be met or are not being met through regular channels, the problem will be turned over to the service action team. Local calls should be directed to 786-9911.

U.P. Council

More than three months ago, Richard M. Whitmer, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, issued what has been popularly pegged the "10 Point plan" for economic development of the Upper Peninsula. The report developed after a tour of the U. P. by Whitmer and others last September, included among its suggestions that Gov. William Milliken appoint a "special assistant" for Upper Peninsula affairs who would live and work in the U. P.

Last week, Gov. Milliken announced that he had abandoned plans to name a special assistant for the Upper Peninsula and instead had selected an "Upper Peninsula Legislative-Executive Council" to do the job. The Council is composed of the five state representatives and two senators who serve the Upper Peninsula.

"As elected representatives of all the people who live in the Upper Peninsula, you are closer to the people and to the problems that must be solved than any one person could ever become," Milliken said.

Exactly what went on in Lansing since Whitmer's recommendation that Milliken name a "personal representative" who could be "very helpful in improving the governor's communications with the people of the area" and also "represent the governor at U. P. functions, expedite action on U. P. problems and provide counsel to the governor on U. P. matters" is academic at this point.

The battle plan in Lansing has changed and the concern of the U. P. must now be with the effectiveness of the new approach.

And there is immediate reason to be suspicious.

While a Legislative-Executive Council on Upper Peninsula affairs could be beneficial, nothing really new has been injected.

The five representatives have not changed their roles. Charles Varnum, Dominic Jacobetti, Russell Hellman, John Payant and Robert Davis are still representatives and Joe Mack and Thomas Schweigert are still senators, each representing their own districts. There is no Upper Peninsula Political Party apart from the Republicans and Democrats. And Gov. Milliken himself, while he professes and displays great concern for the U. P., still must devote the majority of his time and most of his energy to state and metropolitan affairs.

The Legislative-Executive Council, providing it meets on a regular basis, presumably will provide the Upper Peninsula with an audience with the governor, but there is no reason that shouldn't be the case now. It doesn't take all seven Legislators to get through to the governor's office with a special problem.

And as far as the thought that naming all seven U. P. legislators to a special council will generate some new spirit of togetherness, forget it. The seven work together now. They will continue to work together in the future. But each was elected on his own and by virtue of his own beliefs and to expect that they will magically unite on an Upper Peninsula Council is ridiculous.

There is one other fear about the new Legislative-Executive Council on the U. P. — that its establishment will provide the governor with a convenient "escape route" into which to detour any and all problems dealing with the Upper Peninsula.

If Milliken's intent was to appoint a special legislative subcommittee on Upper Peninsula affairs, then it should have been done through the House of Representatives and Senate, giving the committee some authority instead of simply consultative status.

Just what direction the Legislative-Executive Council on the U. P. takes however, remains to unfold in the coming months.

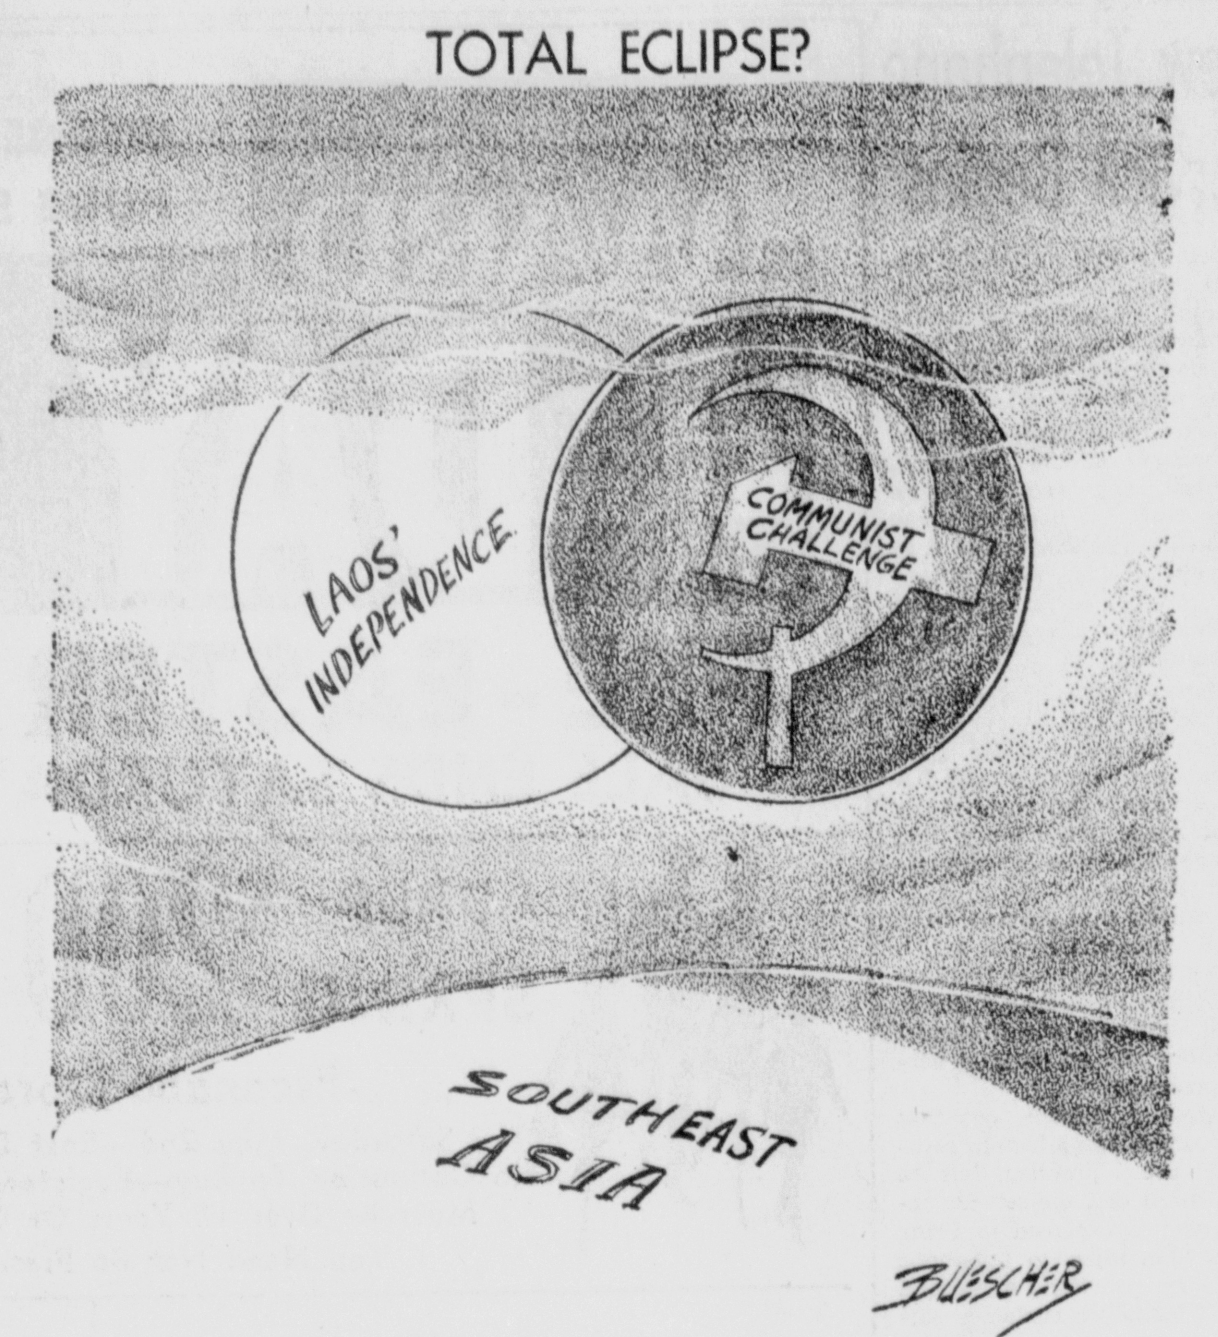

Hopefully, there will be a meaningful exchange between the Legislators and the governor on a regular basis and some appropriate actions will follow. Maybe then, the message that the Upper Peninsula, despite its unique geographical position, is really a part of Michigan will finally get through to the rest of the state.

Marquette Mining Journal Editor Kenneth S. Lowe has been appointed Marquette County chairman for Bay Cliff Health Camp. He succeeds Ogden E. Johnson of Ishpeming, who was Bay Cliff chairman for the county for many years until his death last year.

The Luce County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "Champion of Champions" snowmobile race March 14 and 15 in Newberry. Featured in this United States Snowmobile Association sanctioned race will be a 20-mile cross country event and a 3/4 mile oval race. The Chamber of Commerce will offer a minimum of $2,600 in prize money.

A motion to ask for seven mills for operation in a special election in April was defeated by a 3-3 tie vote in a special meeting of the Tahquamenon Area Board of Education at Newberry. The proposal was to ask voters for renewal of the four mill levy passed in 1965 which expires with the current tax collections, plus three additional mills.

Marquette has been ordered by the Michigan State Tax Commission to reduce by $798,726 the valuation of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co., which means the city, schools and county will have to pay the firm a total of $40,601.06 in rebate for overpayment of taxes by the company last year. The municipality's share of the tax loss will be $13,043.78 and the school system's share, $21,798.22. The county will lose $5,759.06. City Manager Thomas R. McNabb said he was notified last week that the state tax commission had ruled in favor of U. P. Generating, which appealed its 1969 assessment on real and personal property in the city. The company said the valuation of its property was excessive and that it had been charged more than other properties.

Anchor Man On ABC

Agrees With Agnew

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When Spiro Agnew sounded off last November about one-sided TV news commentary, he may not have known that he was echoing complaints from within the big broadcasting studios.

But the evidence was already in print, in an article by Edith Efron published in TV Guide in September. Miss Efron quoted extensively from interviews with broadcasting company, down-the-line officials who freely admitted the TV liberal bias and, who excused it, where they did not justify it, on the grounds that it was merely a matter of plagiarizing the current atmosphere.

Now, to ram the matter home, Miss Efron has interviewed Howard K. Smith, ABC's Washington-based commentator, on the subject of Agnew. The results, as printed in TV Guide for February 28-March 6, are devastating: Smith, who remarks parenthetically that he is personally "left-of-center" himself, says of Agnew that "I agree that we made the mistakes he says we made."

Smith says he couldn't accept Agnew's "ions of intimidation," and he also denied that his broadcasting brethren did things deliberately. But as for the substance of Agnew's criticism, Smith remarked to Miss Efron: "I said some of it before he did."

The trouble with the networks, according to Smith, begins at the very base of operations, with the political composition of the newsroom staff. They are almost exclusively liberals, a state of affairs that "evolved from the time when liberalism was a good thing, and most intellectuals became highly liberal."

But, after 30 years of common acceptance, the liberal creed had become unthinking. "Our liberal friends," says Smith, "have become dogmatic. . . . They react the way political cartoonists do — with oversimplification. . . . They're conventional, they're conformists. They're pleasing Walter Lippmann, they're pleasing the Washington Post, they're pleasing the New York Times, and they're pleasing one another."

So now, around the broadcast newsrooms, they're calling Howard K. Smith by the name of Howard K. Agnew. They aren't pleased with Howard Smith.

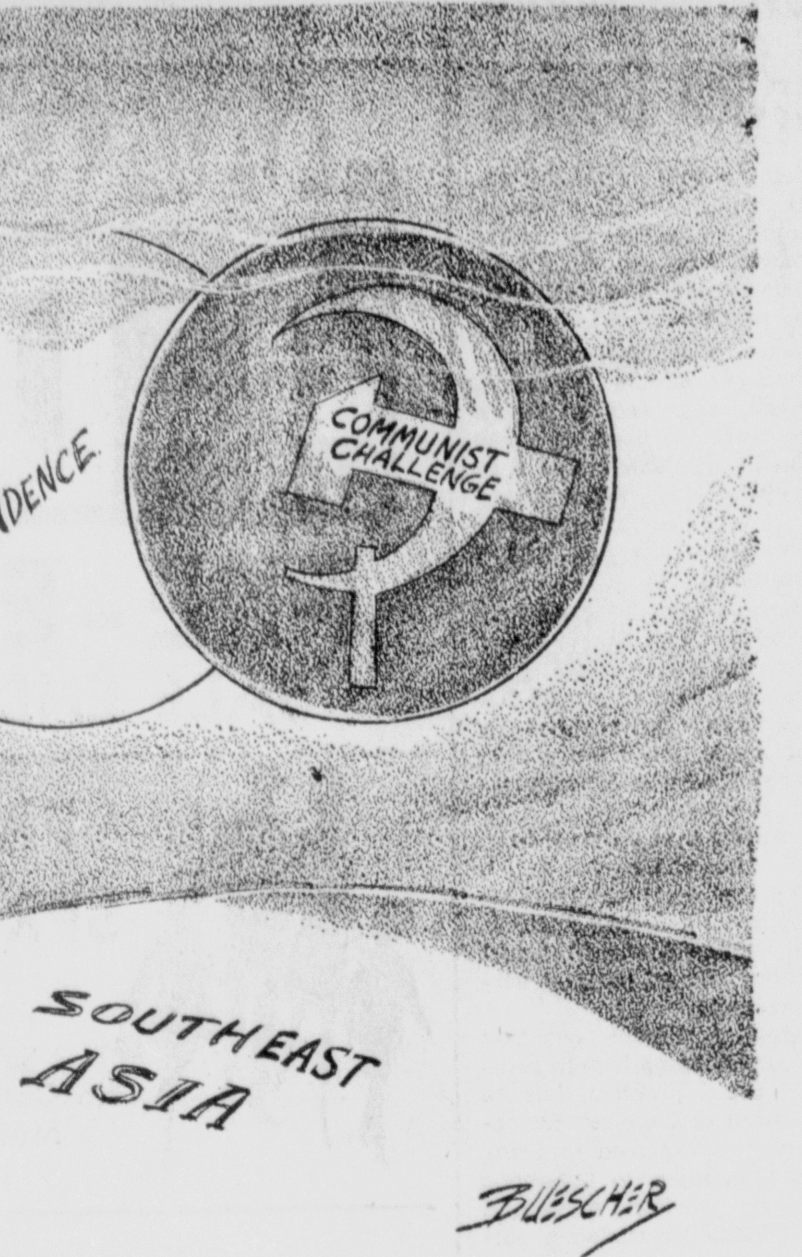

Even so, Mr. Smith will be able to face down the disapprobation of his insulted colleagues. For the mail response to Miss Efron's interview has been almost 100 per cent favorable.

The TV Guide readership comes close to 30 million. You can't disregard such a constituency, which is why some of the lesser officials in TV-dom were worried about the quality of network reporting at least two months before Agnew called attention to the fact that the emperor wasn't wearing any clothes.

To nail his point down, Mr. Smith mentioned oversimplification as it has related (a) to integration and (b) to the Vietnamese War.

"We have 500 Negroes elected to local offices in the Deep South," he said, "but that achievement isn't what we see on the screen. . . . there is a substantial and successful Negro middle class. But the news-men are not interested in the Negro who succeeds — they're interested in the one who fails and makes a loud noise."

TOTAL ECLIPSE?

Anchor Man On ABC

Agrees With Agnew

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

As for Vietnam, "the network has never given a complete picture of the war. For example: that terrible siege of Khe Sanh went on for five weeks before newsmen revealed that the South Vietnamese were fighting at our sides, and that they had higher casualties."

And the Viet Cong's casualties were 100 times ours. But we were never told that. We just showed pictures day after day of Americans getting the hell kicked out of them. That was enough to break America apart. That's also what it did."

Mr. Smith doesn't like to see the boys and girls of the New Left described as "our children."

Manhattan Slowly

Losing Its Charm

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan ain't what it used to be.

The glamor borough of Little Old New York, once the mecca of the nation's talent and a magnet for anybody looking for a good time, is slowly losing its charm and its population, too.

It is hard to knock a town you've loved. It's like telling a wife or an old sweetheart that she's fading fast and ought to do something about it quick.

But Manhattan certainly does need a trip to the beauty parlor and some kind of postgraduate course in how to improve her personality. She needs a facelift and a heartlift. For, to more and more of her admirers, visitors or dwellers, the fun of being in her company is hardly worth the trouble that goes with it.

Here are some of the reasons why: Getting to work on time has become any day's major achievement. The subways and the suburban railroads appear to be vying in a contest to determine which can charge passengers the most and give the least.

It is as difficult to get a cab during the rush hours as it is to get a stagecoach or a ride by horseback, forms of transportation which vanished from here some decades back. You don't tell a cab driver where to go — you beg him.

The only thing higher than the new skyscraper apartments and business buildings going up is the sky-high rents they charge for occupancy. That's why many people and business firms are moving away. Manhattan is threatened with becoming a place where only the very rich and the crowded poor can afford to live. The middle class is fleeing.

An atmosphere of fear pall the city even more than its polluted air. A fellow never knows when he wakes up in the morning, bugged or slugged before nightfall. Losing faith in both doorlocks and the police, many people are buying dogs to protect them. Night life has fallen off, and one reason is simply that many folks feel it is too dangerous to go about the city after dark.

The streets are filthy dirty, and so is the conversation you hear while walking them. Hercules, who cleaned the famed Augean stables, would have a tougher task here, but at least Mayor John V. Lindsay might try to hire him.

It is easier for a child to get heroin here than to get an education. The school system is a perpetual battleground for contentious parents, teachers and bureaucratic educators. The student remains an innocent bystander — and not always innocent himself.

Practically every food worth eating, every cultural event worth seeing, is still here — but how many guys can afford to spend $50 or more in an evening taking his girl out to a good meal and a second-rate musical?

Well, if Manhattan is all that bad, why doesn't a fellow just pick up stakes and move elsewhere? The problem is, where in America can you find another city that isn't as bad as Manhattan — or rapidly getting to be?

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling predicts the Bahamas will become independent of Britain within three years.

On the question of future defense of the Bahamas he says: "I have no doubt that when one comes down to defense matters proper we'll have to enter some kind of agreement either with the United States or with the United Kingdom, or both, or Canada as well."

The 39-year-old leader of the country's first all-black government says his Progressive Liberal party has not decided on a date for independence but he will put the question to the party later this year.

The islands with 200,000 people, have had self-government since 1964, but Britain retains responsibility for foreign affairs and defense. This will end with independence.

Opposition leader, Geoffrey Johnstone of the United Bahamian party, sees "a high possibility" that Pindling will hold an election within 12 months and then declare independence.

Although elections are not due until 1972, the constitution lets the prime minister call out the voters any time he wishes.

A leading critic of Pindling within his own party, Rep. Arthur Foulkes, says the prime minister "will have some difficulty" among his supporters in the House of Assembly if he proposes independence next year.

Foulkes, a former tourism minister, says of his fellow assemblymen: "I think most of the chaps will insist it be 1973 or 1974 after the election."

Opening lead—seven of clubs. Odd things sometimes happen at the bridge table. For example, take this hand which occurred in a team of four match.

At the first table, South made a fine guess at trick one when he played the club ten from dummy, winning East's king with the ace. Declarer returned the king of spades which West took with the ace.

After winning the club return, South cashed three spades and the A-Q of diamonds, West showing out. Declarer continued with a diamond to the king and a diamond back. East won, but, with only hearts left in his hand, he had to return one — permitting dummy to score the last diamond and the king of hearts.

As a result, South made ten tricks for a score of 630 points.

A club was led at the second table also. But declarer at this table chose to play the queen from dummy. East covered with the king, which won, and continued with a club.

South took the ace, cashed the A-Q of diamonds, and then hopefully led the ten of spades. West grabbed the ace and cashed four club tricks, producing this position:

West now led his last club and South found that he could take no more tricks! Actually, dummy discarded a heart, East a diamond and declarer a heart, but the queen of hearts lead from West then finished South off.

So the strange outcome was that at one table North-South made ten tricks, while at the other table, on the same opening lead East-West made ten tricks!

Independence Seen

For Bahama Islands

Pindling expects to put two matters before the party this year; the proposal for independence and the fixing of a target date.

The prime minister told an interviewer he did not think independence would become an election issue.

Although certain people may have reservations, he added, he felt there would be agreement in principle that independence is inevitable and that political and economic circumstances make it desirable.

Ann Landers

Garbage Trucks With

Teeth Irk Employee

Dear Ann Landers: I have umn complaining about smok- umn complaining about smokers who annoy their co-workers in offices. And now will you please say something to people who eat all day long?

My desk is between two garbage trucks with teeth. The smell of food is nauseating—onions, garlic, overripe pears and bananas. The sound effects drive me wild. The woman at my right loves apples and has consumed at least two bushels this winter. The crunching and slobbering is unbearable. She doesn't use a fruit knife—just chops into the whole apple and devours it, core and all.

As you have now probably guessed, the two non-stop eaters are skinny as sparrows and I am overweight, dieting and hungry all the time. Please don't tell me to "speak up." I haven't the nerve. If you will print this letter I will post it on the office bulletin board. Thanks, Doll. I love you.—Andy

Dear Andy: Here it is and lots of luck.

Dear Ann Landers: Before my son went to Vietnam he fathered a child. Bart told me about the affair when the girl was six months pregnant. He could not bring himself to marry Sally because he didn't love her. She agreed to put the baby up for adoption. Bart gave her $2,000 (which he got from me) so she wouldn't have to work for a few months before and after the birth.

Six weeks before the baby was born Bart learned that Sally had married a man 15 years her senior. Through a mutual friend, Sally got ahold of Bart's address in Vietnam and has been writing to him and sending him pictures of the baby. Bart sends the pictures to me. The child is an image of Bart.

My son wants to cut clean from this girl but he fears she is going to use this child to pursue him. He has not answered her letters but she continues to write. What should be done? Bart has asked me to go to see Sally and tell her to leave him alone. Should I? —Newark

Dear New: No. A man who is old enough to father a child should not send his mother on errands of this nature. Bart should return Sally's letters unopened. She'll get the drift—eventually, and leave him alone—if he wants to be left alone, that is.

Dear Ann Landers: How much time should a husband spend with his own wife when he takes her to a party. Willy and I have been arguing about this for nine years.

Whenever we go out, he disappears after the first dance and I don't see him until it's time to go home. He insists the whole idea of a party is so people can mill around and talk to somebody other than the person they are married to. His main argument is, "A man can talk to his wife at home."

Does anyone else have this problem?—Neglected

Dear Neg: Thousands of people. I get this question at least five times a week. The answer is as follows. Accept the fact that your husband is a gregarious fellow and he's not likely to change. When you go out for the evening, don't follow him around and make a pest of yourself. Many wives who write to me have more serious problems than being ignored at a party—such as being left at home.

Duck Population Decline Foreseen

By JACK G. MELL
NILES (AP) — Despite the improvement in the overall Mallard population existing on the Mississippi flyway, the long range forecast has to be on the negative side.

As things now stand, the total population of waterfowl will have to decline, unless present trends are somehow reversed.

North America is experiencing the population boom just as is the rest of the world.

As people increase, they will require more space for living and raising food. The sparsely populated pot-hole country of Canada is the major duck brood factory of the Mississippi flyway.

Habitat Threatened
This premium duck habitat is also excellent agricultural country. It won't be long before a substantial part of the pot-hole duck country is drained and relegated to agriculture, and the number of North American waterfowl will experience a sizable loss of nesting habitat followed by a reduction in waterfowl numbers.

Wildlife biologists, including Michigan's waterfowl expert Ed

Mikula, are already taking steps to reduce the impact of what they feel is the inevitable. Last season, regulations were tailor-made to increase Michigan's native waterfowl population.

Successful Results

The hunting results show that the biologists were successful. Michigan and other states are actively taking steps to preserve and increase existing waterfowl nesting and resting areas. Canada is doing its best to try and save as many of the breeding grounds as possible. But there is only so much money available for acquiring and developing wet grounds.

Mikula feels species management of waterfowl is just around the corner. Hunters will have to know which type of duck they are shooting at so that those ducks in abundance can be harvested while those in short supply will not be overharvested. This practice is widespread in parts of Europe. Hunters have to take a test before qualifying for a hunting license.

Attitudes Must Change
Attitudes will also have to change with reduced numbers of waterfowl. Sportsmen of the future may have to settle for the chance to shoot a large number of ducks and geese with a camera instead of a gun.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife are engaged in a new cooperative venture to increase the local opportunities for waterfowl increase.

A giant new 45,000-acre combination refuge and hunting ground in the Upper Peninsula is underway. The waterfowl management project, which will be established in eastern Menominee County will be patterned after the Shiawassee Wildlife Management Area in Saginaw County. It will be named the Hayward Lake Wildlife Management Area.

New Projects Planned
The new project is located on a major Canada goose flyway and is expected to attract substantial numbers of the 150,000 or more geese which now build up at Wisconsin's Horicon Refuge during the fall migration.

It is hoped that Hayward Lake will also provide a stopover point for a large number of blue and snow geese and as many as 100,000 ducks each fall.

Building Off

DETROIT (AP) — Housing construction in the Detroit area fell sharply during the second half of 1969 after a strong start in the first half.

Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit says, in its publication U.S. Housing Markets, that construction around Detroit will probably drop to its lowest level since 1963.

Better Than Sleeping Pills

"I was jittery. Spent many sleepless nights due to my everyday problems. Then, I found that ALVA-TRANQUIL tablets were remarkably relaxing and helpful. I enjoyed a restful night's sleep with very first dosage. They helped me!" says Mrs. P., Dayton, Ohio.

Relax tensions all day, all night. Take sedative-calming ALVA-TRANQUIL tablets. Clinically proven, they act fast, more effectively than aspirin remedies to unwind "Nerves". Now, relax tension headaches, and taut nerves caused by worry, stress, strain, emotional upset, sleeplessness. Due to simple nervousness. Get genuine ALVA-TRANQUIL tablets at drug counters. Refuse substitutes.

City Commission Backs Mead Pulp Mill Effort

GLADSTONE—A resolution of support for the Mead Corp. in its plans to build a kraft process pulp mill at the Escanaba River was unanimously adopted Monday night by the Gladstone Commission.

The action was the first in the area by a major governmental body since the corporation revealed plans to build the kraft mill last year and aroused concern over possible odors from the mill.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission, which will meet in Lansing March 17 and has scheduled a hearing on the application for a construction permit for the pulp mill.

The City Commission went on record as approving the effort by the company to obtain the best equipment available to control air pollution from the new mill. It also authorized a resolution voicing support of Mead Corp. to Cornell Township. The township issued industrial development revenue bonds to finance the first phase of the construction.

Urban Renewal Needed
The Planning Commission informed the City Commission that after talking to Williams & Works, consulting engineers, they feel that urban renewal in Gladstone is necessary. The Commission recommended that Gladstone enlist the aid of the Chamber of Commerce in approaching local businessmen to get their ideas before proceeding further.

A letter from the fire department was read requesting the Commission recognize their affiliation with the International Association of Fire Fighters as their sole bargaining agent.

The commission tabled the request until further information is available from the city attorney.

Gladstone residents will be given the opportunity to purchase plastic garbage bags from the city at a cost of five cents each.

City Manager Howard Kee-

18 was scheduled to certify nominating petitions and to discuss the police retirement system with local officers.

In other business, the Commission approved purchase of a new corporate city sign to replace the one at the south entrance to Gladstone which was destroyed during snow plowing operations and to explore the possibility of additional signs; authorized the city manager to appoint two five-man election boards and set the salary rate at $18 per day for chairmen and $16 per day for workers; placed on record the appraisal of the city trailer park; postponed the public hearing on the destruction of the building at 415 Wisconsin Ave. in order to comply with state requirements; discussed changing winter overnight parking restrictions; approved payment to Williams & Works, Inc., and Champion, Inc., for work on the water treatment plant, and referred to the city attorney a letter requesting placement of a mobile home in the city limits.

Mayor's Swap To Be Altered

GLADSTONE—The city of Gladstone will apply for re-assignment for the annual Mayor's Exchange Day of Michigan Week.

The application was approved by the City Commission Monday night after Gladstone was notified that the Saline mayor will not be able to participate in the program.

ton said he has received several complaints of rats in the city and that this method of keeping garbage contained in bags in covered garbage cans until collection day might help to control the situation.

Mayor Arne Anderson has long advocated this method to speed up garbage collection and suggested that residents who buy the bags tie them securely on the day of collection and place them either in or out of cans at the usual pickup spot.

Detroit Paying Bounty On Rats

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit slum landlord is reviving an old idea to deal with an old but stubborn problem — he's paying a bounty on rats.

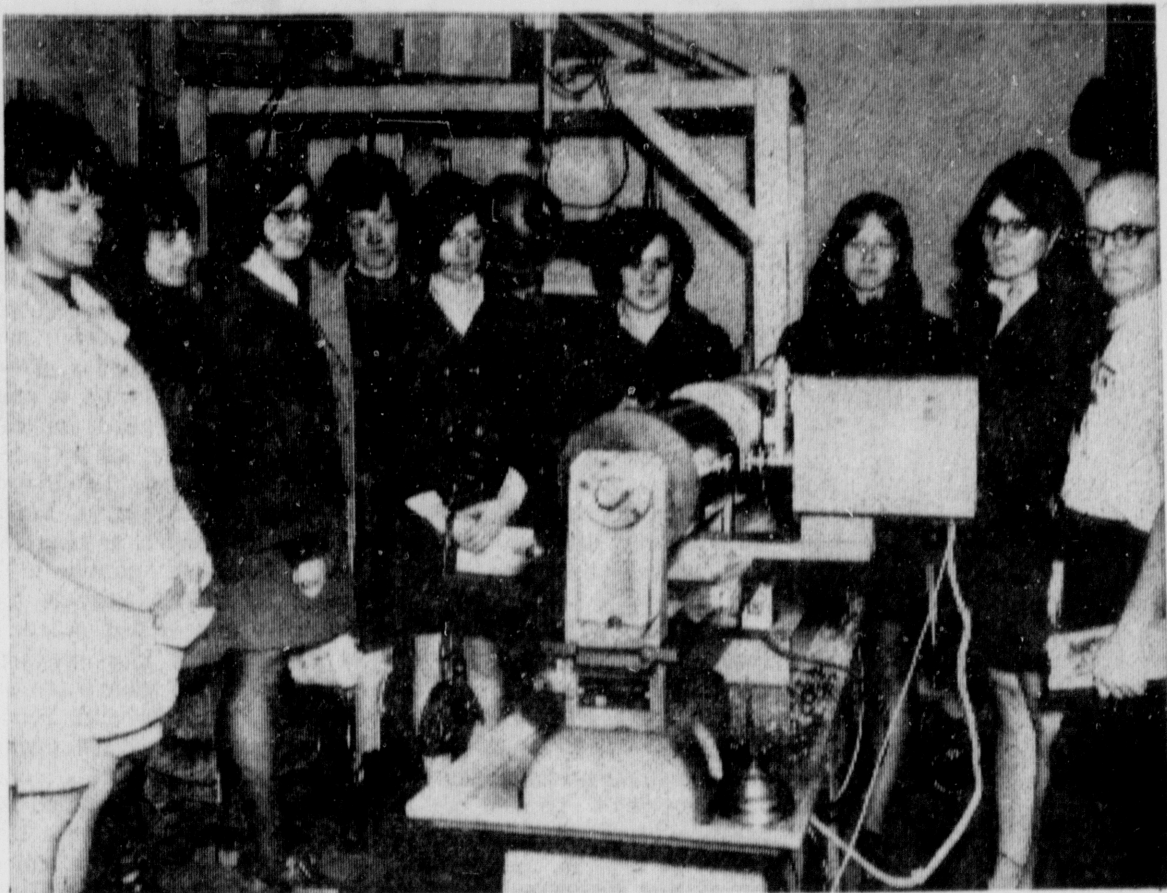

For the next two weeks, Charles C. Sota, landlord to about 1,000 inner city Detroit residents, says he will pay 20 cents for each dead rat brought to his office. He's putting up $500 to cover the first 2,500 rats and is hoping he will get other financial support to extend the program.

"Rats are very bad in the inner city," said Costa, a 35-year-old immigrant from Malta. "There must be millions of them and people don't realize the amount of damage they cause."

"I've experienced rat problems in some of my buildings," he added. "The rats can always find a door some kid has left open."

Civilization Heads Downhill, Scribe Says

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

It is pretty safe to figure a civilization is going downhill when the people in it talk more about astrology than religion and put more faith in their stars than in their God.

I never met a fellow who didn't have insomnia the first night he slept under an electric blanket.

There is an old superstition that when a new shoe squeaks it is a sign it hasn't been paid for yet. If that were true of new automobiles, we wouldn't be able to hear ourselves for the din.

One of the worst things about having to pay 15 cents for a cup of coffee is that it tastes just as bad as the old nickel cup did.

The first thing a new business executive does after being hired is to go through the files of his predecessor and see what kind of letters he wrote that probably helped get him fired. The second thing the new executive does is to write a memo. The third thing he does is to wonder whether he should have.

The kind of patient a doctor dislikes most is a woman who calls on the phone and says she feels bad but doesn't think she's sick enough to justify making the trip to his office—and asks him what she should do.

One of the mysteries of this world is why anyone, after taking a bite of broccoli, then proceeds to take another bite. He wouldn't do it with fog, glue or library paste.

Somehow, he must have the weird idea that broccoli is a human food.

It is a myth that the major occupational ailment of policemen is foot trouble. More of them suffer from ulcers or chronic indigestion than from fallen arches.

We all have delusions of grandeur we never admit out loud. Who ever sang alone in his bathroom shower without the secret conviction he could have made a career in opera had he merely taken the time and effort?

One of the biggest decisions in most households these nights is whether to stay home and watch a nice clean old movie on television or go out and see a dirty new one.

After a man tells a lie, he tends to turn his face away. After a woman tells a lie, she prefers to open her compact and study her face in the mirror to see how well she got away with it.

How much happier we all might be if we but simply tore up the card—and let the credit go.

Kentucky Quint Tops Final Poll

By The Associated Press

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp has learned to take winning in stride during his 40 seasons as the Wildcats basketball mentor.

But Rupp, who has led his teams to an amazing 835-176 record, has an added incentive when the Wildcats face Notre Dame in the first round of the NCAA Midwest Region tournament in Columbus, Ohio Thursday night.

The Wildcats, who finished the regular season with a 25-1 mark, were named Monday as the nation's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press weekly major college basketball poll.

For Kentucky, it was the sixth time in the final poll's top position. The Wildcats, who drew 18 first place votes and 512 points, were No. 1 in 1949, 1951, 1952, 1954 and 1966.

UCLA lost last week to Southern California and ended up in second place with three first place votes and 440 points. The Bruins were the top-ranked team last year and most of this season.

UCLA, which also topped the poll in 1964 and 1967, ended its regular season at 24-2 and captured the Pacific-8 Conference. Kentucky wrapped up its third consecutive Southeastern Conference crown to gain its 18th NCAA berth.

Kentucky's first obstacle will not be an easy one. The Wildcats edged Notre Dame 102-100 at Louisville on Dec. 27 as the Irish high-scoring Austin Carr blistered the nets for 42 points. Carr broke the NCAA tournament record against Ohio University last Saturday with 61 points.

The winners of the Kentucky-Notre Dame and Jacksonville-Iowa games will meet for the Midwest Region championship.

In its 17 previous NCAA appearances, Kentucky has walked away with four titles. However, the 'Cats haven't tasted victory since 1958, when they defeated Seattle in the championship game. The other championships came in 1951, 1949 and 1948.

Last year Kentucky took a 23-4 record into its first round game against Marquette, but lost the contest 81-74. The year before that Ohio State knocked off Kentucky in the Midwest Region finals.

Rupp would like to change the results this year, and he may have the equipment in All-Americans Dan Issel and Mike Pratt.

Rounding out the top-ten in the final poll, in order, were St. Bonaventure, Jacksonville, New Mexico State, South Carolina, Iowa, Marquette, Notre Dame and North Carolina State.

The Bonnies finished with 432 points—just eight behind UCLA. Jacksonville had three first place votes and New Mexico State and Iowa one each.

St. Bonaventure moved up from fourth and Jacksonville jumped from sixth. Iowa and Marquette each advanced one rung, but Notre Dame shot from 15th to ninth and North Carolina State surged from a tie for 19th to 10th.

South Carolina lost to North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast Conference final and fell from third while New Mexico State remained the same.

Pennsylvania dropped from seventh to 13th and Davidson, beaten by St. Bonaventure, fell from 10th to 15th.

Niagara, No. 17, Long Beach State, No. 19, and USC, No. 20, moved into the top 20 this week.

Dropping out were Kansas State, Ohio University and Cincinnati.

Florida State stayed at No. 11 and Drake regained the 14th spot, while Houston rose from 13th to 12th and Utah State jumped from 18th to 16th. Western Kentucky, beaten by Jacksonville, fell from 12th to 18th.

Amateur Tourney Entry Date Set

HERMANSVILLE—The entry deadline for the 32nd annual Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin Amateur Basketball tournament has been extended to midnight, Friday, March 13, Douglas LaCourse, tournament manager, announced today.

LaCourse said the deadline was extended because several teams had requested an extension to make sure they would be able to make the tournament which opens Saturday, March 21 and ends on March 29.

LaCourse expects the Class A entry list to include topnotch clubs as the Crystal Falls McNeil Oilers, Baraga Rudy's Bar, Ashland, Wis., Good Merchants and Stevens Point, Wis.

Some of the top Class B teams include Crystal Falls Oilers, Stephenson Strollers, Norway Louie's Bar, Niagara Badgers, Oconto, and teams from Menominee, Marinette, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Felch and Ishpeming.

Wardy's Snares Dartball Crown

Wardy's Bar has won the second half league championship of the Escanaba Tavern Dartball League, according to league secretary Don Martineau. Wardy's also won the first half title.

A regular meeting of the league will be held Thursday at the Palm Bar at 8 p. m. All teams are asked to be present, as drawings for the tournament will be made.

Pepitone Swings Big Bat; Houston Upends Red Sox

By The Associated Press

Joe Pepitone made the big noise in a day highlighted by long ball fireworks while his former New York Yankee teammates won their first game of the spring season rather quietly.

Pepitone, traded by the Yankees to Houston during the winter for Curt Blefary, knocked in five runs Monday helping the Astros to a 9-5 victory over Boston.

The 29-year-old first baseman, after driving in an earlier run with a single, settled the game with a bases-loaded home run off the Red Sox' Vicente Romo in the eighth inning. Bob Watson also homered for the Astros while Tony Conigliaro, in his first at bat of the spring, connected for a two-run shot for the Sox.

The Yankees, after dropping their first three spring exhibition games, got excellent eight-hit pitching from veterans Joe Verbanic and Steve Hamilton and rookie Ron Klimkowski in rolling to a 3-0 triumph over the Minnesota Twins.

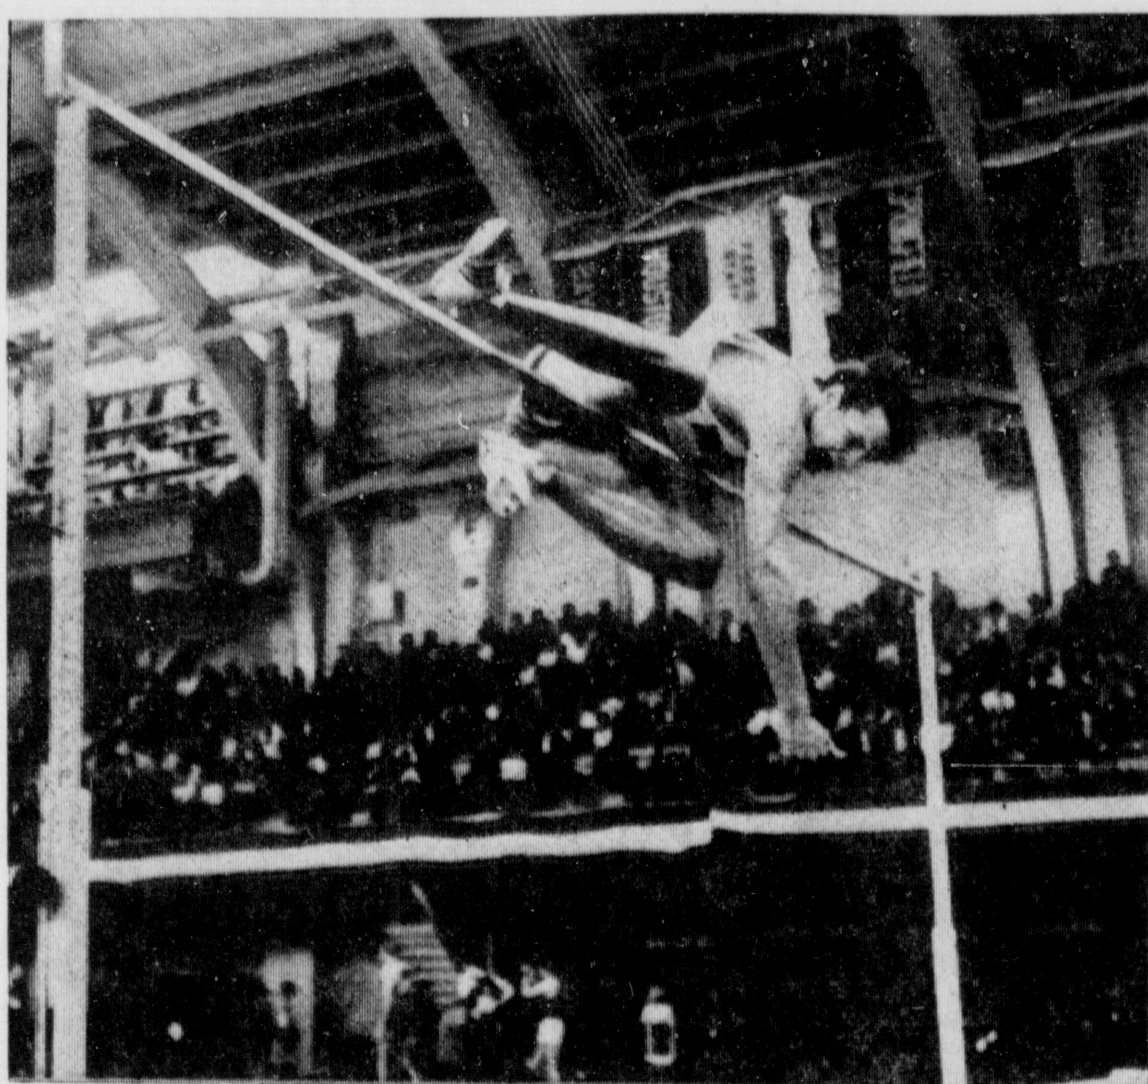

The New Yorkers got all the runs they needed in the third inning on John Ellis' run-scoring single and a RBI triple by Gene Michael.

In other action the Philadelphia Phillies dropped the New York Mets 13-3, the Chicago Cubs stopped Seattle 7-3, the Chicago White Sox whipped St. Louis 7-4, Detroit blasted Pittsburgh 8-2, San Francisco bombed Oakland 14-4, Cincinnati clubbed Kansas City 12-6 and Cleveland nipped San Diego 7-5.

The Mets, defending world champions, committed eight errors and catchers Mike Compton and Tim McCarver knocked in three runs apiece for the Phillies. Compton had a three-run homer while the Phils' Rick Joseph added a two-run blast.

Billy Williams clubbed a three-run homer and pitcher Ralph Dickey added a bases-loaded triple in the Cubs' victory over Seattle.

Coco Laboy and Adolpho Phillips smashed solo blasts and Bob Bailey had a two-run triple in the Expos' rout while the Braves got homers from Hank Aaron and Tony Gonzalez. Seventh-inning circuits by

UP AND OVER — High jumper Pat Mazdorf of Wisconsin seems to be telling the bar to stay put as he glides over the seven-foot mark. Mazdorf smashed the former Big Ten record of six feet, ten inches, which stood since 1963. The new mark was set at the Big Ten Indoor Track and Field Championships held at East Lansing Saturday. Injuries Fail To Sidetrack 76ers Against Rockets

By The Associated Press

First, Archie Clark's losing photo-finish. Then Wally Jones gets defeated by a nose. What next for the Philadelphia 76ers?

Clark is out with a hip injury after banging into a television camera Sunday in a National Basketball Association game with New York. And Monday night, Jones suffered a nose injury in Philadelphia's 131-112 victory over San Diego.

Jones received the painful injury in the first period and after being worked on by two doctors, did not bow out until the final seconds of the game. Doctors indicated the nose was not broken, but said Jones probably would not be available for Saturday night's game in Los Angeles.

In the night's only other game, Lew Alcindor led Milwaukee to a 124-105 victory over Seattle.

In the American Basketball Association, New Orleans defeated Kentucky 117-114.

The 76ers lost a pair of early, 11-point leads but came back behind Hal Greer's 39 points.

Elvin Hayes, with 32 points and 25 rebounds, led the early San Diego rallies that enabled the Rockets to draw even at 75 midway through the third period.

But Greer and Billy Cunningham, who hit for 33, led a 76er surge that put the game out of reach.

Alcindor scored 25 points in an abbreviated appearance, and intimidated the opposition in another one-man show. Once the 7-2 rookie took the ball away from a Seattle guard, and another time dribbled half the length of the court, passing behind his back for an assist.

Bob Rule scored 19 points to top the Super Sonics, who were never in the game.

New Orleans' victory over Kentucky in the ABA snapped the Buccaneers' eight-game losing streak and was their first since Feb. 21. The setback dropped the Colonels to third place in the Eastern Division, one-half game behind the Carolina.

The Bucs built a 19-point lead and opened a 63-47 halftime bulge. Jimmy Jones topped the New Orleans attack with 26 points.

Louis Dampier of Kentucky was the game's high scorer with 40 points. He collected five three-point field goals to tie a New Orleans home court record set by Mike Butler of the Bucs earlier this season.

Carney Five Opens Regional Cage Play

By MIKE UTT

Another chapter in the annual "March Madness" dilemma will unfold tonight at the C. B. Hedgcock Fieldhouse on the Northern Michigan University campus in Marquette with the first game of the Upper Peninsula regional basketball tournament between the Carney Wolves and Ewen - Trout Creek.

Following tonight's game, the rest of the week shows the Class C teams playing on Wednesday, Class D again on Thursday, Class B on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

Wednesday's games pit St. Ignace (17-1) and Houghton (19-0) at 7 p. m. and Norway (17-2) and Bessemer (15-3) at 8:30. Thursday will have Baraga (12-8) and Eben (9-12) playing at 7 p. m. and Wakefield (17-3) going against the winner of tonight's Carney-Ewen-Trout Creek game at 8:30. Friday finds Holy Name (14-4) going against Negaunee (14-5) at 7 p. m. and Menominee (14-4) playing West Iron County (8-11) at 8:30.

The Saturday championship games begin at 11 a. m. with the two Class C winners squaring off, followed by the Class D title contest at 3 p. m. and the Class B game at 8 p. m.

Marquette, the U. P. Class A champion, will travel downstate for its regional tournament, as will Class D quint, Big Bay de Noc and DeTour. Marquette (17-2) will play Grand Rapids Union at Wyoming Godwin Heights High School Friday at 8:30 and if it should win, the Redmen would then play the winner of the Muskegon-Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills game Saturday for the championship.

DeTour (10-9) will face Alanson tonight at 7:30 at Cheboygan and Big Bay de Noc (19-1) will meet Indian River at 7:30 Wednesday in the other game of the same tournament. The winners will clash Friday at 7:30 for the championship.

Oddly, enough, neither Carney (11-9) nor Ewen-Trout Creek (11-9), the two teams opening the regional tournament at Marquette tonight at 7, were expected to be among the teams participating in the regionals this year. Carney defeated a highly favored Powers-Spalding team Saturday night in the finals of district play by a 41-40 margin and Ewen-Trout Creek came out of the district at Republic after favored Champion was upended by Republic 61-55 in its district opener. The Panthers then stopped Republic and won the district championship over National Mine Saturday, 57-46.

Carney will rely on a great defense and a good offense, both of which are led by 6 foot 5 inch sophomore Ed Benson and senior John Perras. Perras led the Wolves in scoring this season with 361 points in 18 games for a 20.1 average and Benson threw in 306 points in 18 games for a 17.0 average. Benson was the team's top rebounder with 293 and Perras was second with 256 during regular season play.

Friday's game will match the two top conferences in the Upper Peninsula. Menominee, West Iron County and Holy Name all play in the Great Northern Conference during the regular season and Negaunee is a member of the Great Lakes Conference. The Maroons finished on top of the GNC race with an 8-2 mark, while Holy Name was tied for second at 7-3 and West Iron County was fourth with a 4-6 record. Negaunee finished fourth in the GLC standings with an 8-4 record.

Both Negaunee and Holy Name compiled great defensive records during the 1969-70 season and Friday's game could prove to be real interesting. The Crusaders rely on 6 foot 5 inch Joe Harvey to get the ball off the boards for them and senior Dan Young and sophomore Bill Skradski to score the points. Skradski led Holy Name in the scoring department with 268 points and Young was right behind him with 252, while Harvey hit the boards for 241 rebounds.

Another attraction in the tourney at Marquette will be Houghton's high scoring attack, which features Gary Lange and Brian Salo, going against an equally fine opponent in St. Ignace. Lange led all scorers in the U. P. this season with a 32.8 average and Salo came up with a 24.5 mark. St. Ignace is led by Leo Donavon and John McKinnon, both of whom received honors on the All-U. P. team last season.

One of the top scoring teams in any tournament will be the Big Bay de Noc Black Bears, who were rated fourth among Class D schools in the state by the AP in its final poll. Big Bay scored 205 points in its two district tourney outings after averaging 77.2 points per game during the regular season. The Black Bears boast two of the finest scorers in the U. P. in Bill Hartman (23.1) and John Lewandowski (17.9) and their entire first team is averaging over ten points per game.

Marquette's debut in the Class A event should answer a lot of questions concerning whether or not Class D is good enough to beat Class A. Four of the Redmen's starting five played on last year's Bishop Baraga team, which won the State Class D title.

City Cage Event Action Underway

Ness Construction, Robinson's and the Stone House all picked up first round victories in the annual City League basketball tournament Monday night.

Ness Construction got 21 points from Tim LeMire and 20 from Bill Carlson in a 71-58 victory over the Independents. Steve Miketina led the losers with 22 points.

Robinson's scored an 84-65 decision over Cablevision, as Mark Weber threw in 25 points and Lynn LePlant 23 for the winners. Doug Moss had 24 points for Cablevision.

The Stone House nipped Herbert's 46-42 behind Cliff O'Donnell's 16 points, while Joe Rawson had 16 for the losers.

Wednesday's game will pit Gafner's and the Jets at 7 p. m. and Ness Construction against Tom's Signs at 8 p. m.

Hawks Beaten

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee Wings outclassed the Escanaba Hawks in an amateur hockey game Saturday night by a 20-4 margin, giving them a 5-4 record for the season.

Mount Inks Pacer Pact

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Rick Mount, Purdue All-American basketball player, became the first of this year's college stars to turn pro when he signed a contract Monday night with the Indiana Pacers of the American Basketball Association.

Neither Mount nor Mike Storen, Pacers general manager would reveal any particulars of the contract. Mount only commented, "I'm very pleased" with his new contract.

The Indianapolis Star reported, "The total package, including a deferred payment program and business investment opportunities, can run well in excess of $1 million."

The Star said the contract is for five years "at about $40,000 a year plus a substantial initial bonus. He also was given a funded program that could pay annuities of up to $50,000 a year for 20 years beginning 20 years from last night."

The Pacers, most financially successful team in the three-year-old ABA, signed Mount in a news conference televised live in Indianapolis at 11 p.m. EST Monday.

Orr Gets Closer To Scoring Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Orr of the Boston Bruins has moved within the shadow of the 100-point mark in his bid to become the first defenseman ever to win the National Hockey League scoring title.

The 21-year-old Bruin picked up three more assists last week, giving him a total of 72, and boosted his point total to 97.

Although he has scored only four points in the last six games, he still has a 14-point edge over his closest rival, teammate Phil Esposito, with 83.

Only four players in the history of the league have scored as many as 100 points in a season. No defenseman has ever taken the scoring title.

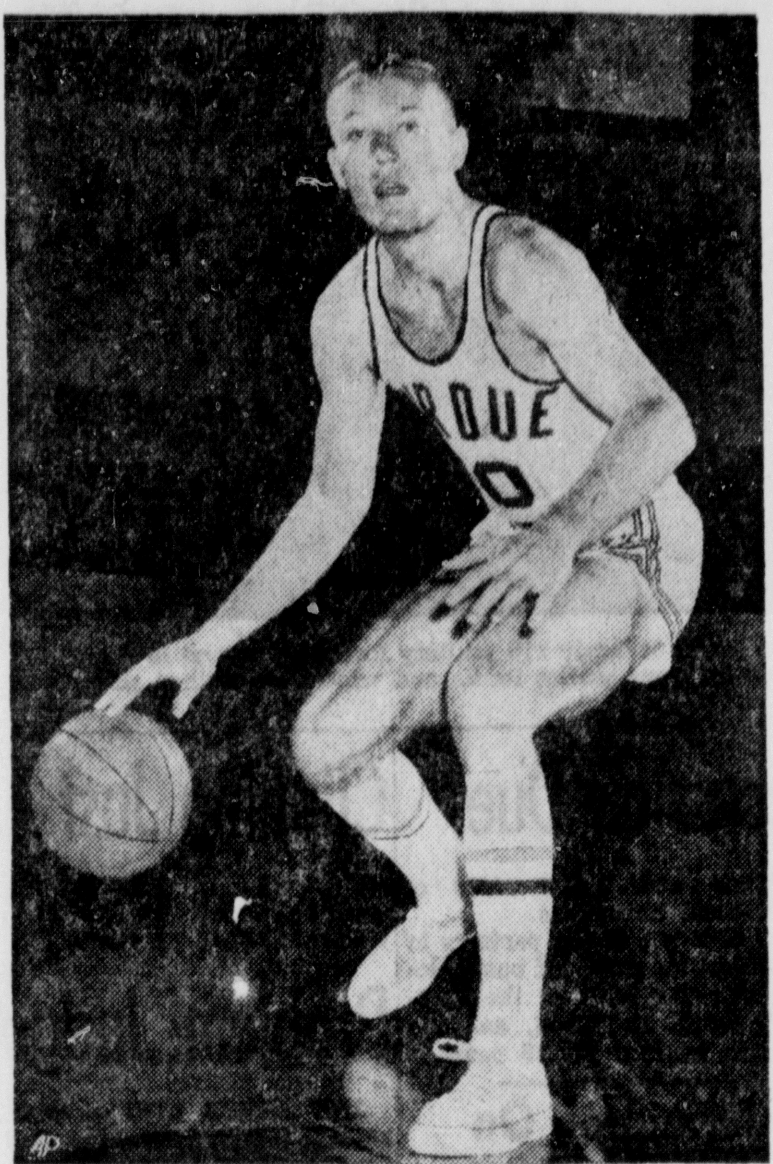

The scoring record is 126 points, scored by Esposito last season.

The battle for the Vezina Trophy, which goes to the top goal tender, remains close. Chicago's Tony Esposito and Gerry Desjardins lead with a combined 2.0 average of goals permitted. Ed Giacomin and Terry Sawchuk of the Rangers follow with 2.3. St. Louis is third with 2.38.

Hockey League Plans To Tighten Security

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League, concerned by the recent gambling controversies involving Denny McLain and Joe Namath, announced Monday it was setting up its own security department.

Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, said he has been appointed to head a special committee set up by the league's board of governors to

Rick Mount

Seattle's Fate Delayed Again

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The American League has postponed its meeting to discuss the Seattle Pilots because of the illness of William Daley, one of the owners of the club. No new date has been set.

Although the league voted $650,000 as a temporary loan to tide the Pilots through spring training as recently as Feb. 11, there were indications that a move to Milwaukee for 1970 was getting strong consideration.

Experienced baseball men pointed out that the mere fact that the league was holding another special meeting less than a month after announcing a decision to stay in Seattle was taken as a strong hint that a change was upcoming. If the owners decide to move at the meeting, the best bet would appear to be Milwaukee which has a major league stadium ready for opening day, only four weeks off.

The National League moved the Boston franchise to Milwaukee in March 1953 and it operated there from 1953 to 1965 before the Braves moved on to Atlanta despite a series of court suits by Milwaukee interests. The American League's Chicago White Sox have played several home games in the Milwaukee park in recent years but had none scheduled for 1970.

Seattle, saddled with an inadequate minor league park which was a holdover from its day in the Pacific Coast League, drew only 677,944 in 1969, its first year in the majors. Reports of feuding between club officials and local people and losses estimated at $1 million contributed to an unsettled situation.

West Maintains Scoring Average

NEW YORK (AP) — East is East ... but Jerry West still is Jerry West.

The Los Angeles Laker superstar maintained his league-leading scoring average at 31.6 with a 31-point average last week, National Basketball Association figures disclosed today.

West, although an all-star guard for several years, has never won the scoring title. He maintained a lead over fast-closing Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, who has a 28.6 average with two weeks remaining in the regular season.

San Diego's Elvin Hayes has pulled three-tenths of a point ahead of Baltimore's Wes Unseld in their down-to-the-wire battle for the rebound title. Hayes has a 16.6 per-game average and Unseld, 16.3.

Johnny Green of Cincinnati continues to lead in field goal percentage with .566; Flynn Robinson of Milwaukee tops the league in free throw percentage with .900 and Lenny Wilkens of Seattle is the assists leader with a 9.3 average.

Donovan Accepts Buffalo Position

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Eddie Donovan, who as coach and then general manager helped guide the New York Knicks from the depths to the heights of the National Basketball Association, will have a chance to try it again with the fledgling Buffalo team.

Donovan's appointment as general manager of the new NBA expansion franchise was to be made officially at a news conference today. In a prelude Monday, the 46-year-old Donovan resigned as the Knick's GM, with his duties absorbed by Coach Red Holzman immediately.

Tigers Trip Pirates 8-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Jim Northrup probably just wishes the Grapefruit League would go on forever.

The big Tiger centerfielder went 3-3 at the plate Monday to keep up his spring hitting streak as the Tigers downed Pittsburgh 8-2 in an exhibition game.

"I always hit well in the spring," said Northrup, who was lifted in the fifth to give rookie Bob Molinaro a crack. "I don't know why. I wish I did because maybe then I could carry it over into the season."

"But playing all day games helps," he added. "Eliminate night ball and everybody's average would go up all the way down the line. It's just so much easier to hit during the day. I know I feel a lot better."

Northrup is now hitting .500, five hits in 10 trips to the plate. The rest of the team is hitting well too. Willie Horton, who slumped badly last season, batted in three runs Monday on two hits and a sacrifice fly. Utility infielder Dalton Jones also had three hits.

The Tigers got off to a big first inning, scoring three runs off loser Fred Cambria. They added one in the third and two each in the fifth and sixth.

Pittsburgh got both their runs off reliever Tom Timmerman in the fifth. Fred Lasher got the win for the Tigers.

Haywood Widens Scoring Margin

NEW YORK (AP) — Spencer Haywood, the go-power of the Denver Rockets, has accelerated his lead in the American Basketball Association scoring race.

The Rockets' standout rookie averaged 41 points in five games last week, his best as a pro, to boost his season's average to 28.6 points, league figures revealed Monday.

Haywood thus strengthened his lead over Bob Verga of Carolina, who has been running 1-2 with the Denver star all year. Verga has a 27.2 average.

Haywood continued to lead in rebounding with 1,294 for a 19.6 average.

The 1971 Senior Amateur golf championship of the United States will be played at the Sunnyside Golf Club, Plymouth Meeting, Pa., on Sept. 20-25.

Reward Offered In Derailment Try Downstate

MONROE (AP) - The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad Company is offering a $1,000 reward for information concerning an attempt to derail one of its trains last Wednesday.

Railroad officials said a southbound D-T-and-I 121 - car freight train hit obstructions on the track Wednesday night. They said damage was confined to front of the locomotive.

A railroad spokesman said a coupler knuckle was wired to one rail in a position to cause derailment if hit at the right angle.

Farther down the track, a large section of a telephone pole was tied across both rails.

The FBI has been called in to investigate the incident's possible connection with sabotage efforts linked to the threatened nationwide railroad strike.

Predicts Long Recession Due

ANN ARBOR (AP) - The nation will probably go through its longest recession in the post World War II period this year but will bounce back with record - setting industrial sales in 1971, says a University of Michigan finance professor.

On the dark side of the coin, Professor Thomas G. Gies predicts:

-The cost of mortgage money will drop only one point by mid or late summer from the approximate present rate of 9 per cent.

-Michigan will have an unemployment rate of 10 per cent or more by mid - summer this year.

-The Dow Jones Industrial Average will decline as much as 100 points to around the 650 mark.

Gies, a U-M Graduate School Finance professor, said in an interview Monday that 1970 will be a financially troubled year mainly because the Federal Reserve has not taken as prompt offsetting actions as during past approaching periods of recession.

"They are more concerned with stopping inflation," he said. "They have traded off control over unemployment to gain control over price increases."

On the other side of the coin, Gies said 1971 could be the year of "The trillion - dollar economy."

In 1971, the Dow Jones average will break the 1,000 mark, a mystical barrier which many analysts feel can't be penetrated, and auto industry sales should reach a record high or near it, Gies predicted.

The housing industry should reach a record of 2.3 million starts next year, he added.

He said the auto and building industries may set sales records next year because of a backlog of demands created by a slow 1970, the rising average income and higher rates of household formations.

Gies is one of the partners in the Parsons group of banks, including the Bank of the Commonwealth in Detroit, and has taught at U-M for 12 years.

Information On Pollution May Come Via Phone

WASHINGTON (AP) - You may someday get the levels of air and water pollution when you dial your telephone for the weather.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., who wants the Weather Bureau to provide this information, says "if we can throw the pollution report right into normal weather reporting, then we shall have reached a most effective way to bring home to millions of people three or four times per day the seriousness of the pollution problem."

Sparkman said his proposal is designed to create the kind of public awareness of the pollution problem that will help to build widespread public support of a crash program to stop pollution.

Group On Aging Approves Grants

LANSING (AP) - The Michigan Commission on Aging has authorized three grants to continue existing programs. They include $23,318 for Detroit's Community Volunteer project, a program of recruiting and placing elderly people as volunteers; $7,198 for the Iron County Senior Citizens Service Center at Caspian, and $2,500 for the East Iron County Senior Citizens Center at Crystal Falls.

Clipping Just Another Hairy Problem: Judge

ANN ARBOR (AP) - Eight antiwar protesters Monday filed for $200,000 in damages against Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey and two deputies for haircuts they received in jail.

The eight-five University of Michigan students and three former students—charge in U.S. District Court that the haircuts, given by inmates, violated their constitutional rights under the Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth and Fourteenth Amendments.

The plaintiffs were arrested on misdemeanor charges during antiwar demonstrations Feb. 18 and 19 in the vicinity of the Michigan campus. The haircuts were given while they were held in jail pending release on bond.

The suit was filed by Detroit civil liberties lawyer Ernest Goodman. It alleges that the eight "were compelled to have the hair on their heads totally clipped or shaved to the scalp."

Harvey, who dismissed the suits as "ridiculous," admitted that the haircuts given the eight were shorter than usual.

"I don't know why they cut them so short," the sheriff said. "The fellow who did the cutting was an inmate, and he's out of jail now. All I know is, he was supposed to treat everyone the same."

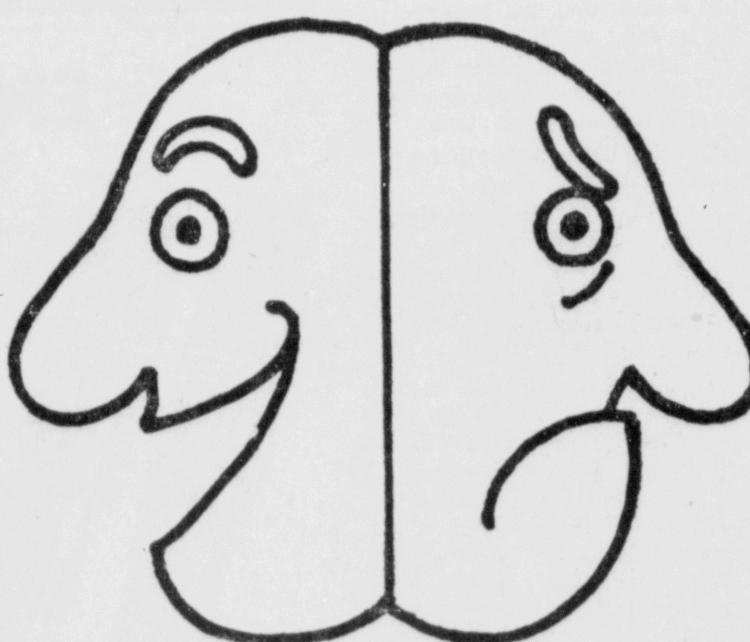

"This suit is ridiculous. That hair'll grow back in three days anyway," he said.

Goodman indicated that the suit was intended to test the legality of shearing prisoners' hair.

The suit says the plaintiffs' hair is "an expression of their personalities and their differences with the cultural, social and political values generally held within society."

The defendants in the case are Harvey and two as-yet unnamed deputies. The plaintiffs are University students Paul Wilson, Robert Parsons, Mark Moss, Glenn Mitchell and Frederick Lee Miller and former students Mark Wellman, James Kirk and James Forrester.

A hearing in the case is set for March 23 before U. S. District Judge Lawrence Gubow in Detroit.

MANISTIQUE

Manistique Ambulance Service Is Questioned

MANISTIQUE — Is the city satisfied with the quality of ambulance service being provided, and, if not, what can be done about it?

These questions were posed to City Council Monday night by Don MacPhail Jr., 527 Garden Ave., who said it took 20 to 25 minutes for the city ambulance to respond to a call last week. The distance involved was about one mile, he said.

MacPhail said he is aware that two off-duty men had to be summoned to make the call, but pointed out that the time factor is very important when a sudden and serious emergency arises.

The ambulance call in question was one at noon on March 3 to take MacPhail's mother, who lives on Chippewa Ave., to the hospital after she suffered a heart attack.

Money Problem
"It's a dollars and cents problem," said City Manager Robert Noe. "To provide standby service would mean increasing personnel of the public safety department by four or five men. This means, by conservative estimate, an additional payroll of between $40,000 and $50,000."

Noe said the same problem is common in other communities.

Obituary

ANGUS HUGH McDONALD

Complete funeral services were held Saturday at two o'clock from the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home for Angus H. McDonald, 71, who died March 3 at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Mr. McDonald was a resident of Gould City and formerly taught school for 47 years.

He was superintendent of service at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island from 1929-1942; worked as an accountant at Blaney Park from 1942-1959; served on the Mackinac County Board of School Examiners and was also Newton Township treasurer for many years.

Rev. William Brauer, Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian, officiated at the rites with Mrs. Roy LaMarche at the organ.

Burial will take place in the Fairview Cemetery in the spring.

LARRY JAMES DAVIS

Rev. Bruce Handrich, pastor of the Germfask Mennonite Church, officiated at funeral services for Larry James Davis, 12, held Monday at 11 a.m. from the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home.

Larry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davis Jr. of Germfask, died March 5 when an abandoned building in which he and his brother were playing collapsed.

Mrs. Roy LaMarche was organist during the services which were attended by Larry's 7th grade classmates at the Germfask School. Burial will take place in the Germfask Cemetery in the spring.

ties and predicted that state legislation eventually would force ambulance service on counties rather than municipalities. The service then would be the responsibility of either hospitals or sheriff's departments, he said.

The city currently is serving the entire county, including Garden in Delta County, and receives only a $4,000 annual appropriation from the county, Noe added.

Would the voters approve additional mileage to support a stand-by ambulance service? Probably not, was the consensus of Council.

Time Question

MacPhail said that the official records of the Public Safety Department showed only a 15-minute time lapse for the call in question.

Public Safety Director Joseph McDonough said today that MacPhail is correct in his contention that department records showed a 15-minute run on the call in question.

McDonough said the officer on desk erred in not logging the call when it was first received, but instead began calling off-duty men to answer the call. Four calls were made before an available man was found and he had to come into the station from his home on Intake Park Rd. and pick up the ambulance.

McDonough said he feels his department is doing the best it can under the present setup.

Contracts Approved

Three urban renewal contracts were approved by Council, including a $33,300 overall planning study and $4,000 marketability and land use study with Vilcan Leman, planning consultants, plus a $7,800 structural inspection and evaluation agreement with Ellis Naeyaert Associates of Warren.

The contract costs will be paid from a federal urban renewal planning grant of $117,000, as will the additional salary which Noe will receive as executive director of the project. He was named to the supervisory and coordinating position by Council Monday night.

Project funds also will pay the salary of a part-time secretary, who will be hired to assist with clerical duties.

Mayor Leo DeMars and City Clerk Ralph Ekstrom were authorized to sign project checks.

Study Checked

Council instructed Noe to contact the Ann Arbor firm of McNamee, Porter and Seely to see if a preliminary engineering study on a phosphorus removal plant could be ready by April 15. On that date, the city must appear at a public hearing in Traverse City called by the Water Resources Commission. It's doubtful if the city can comply with state-imposed deadlines for construction of a wastewater treatment plant, Council said.

June 1 is the deadline for submission of a preliminary engineering study on a treatment plant which must be constructed and operational by Dec. 1, 1972.

The city is considering inclusion of Hiawatha Township and the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. in a common treatment plant.

Noe said bids will be taken on a new Department of Public Works storage building to be constructed behind city hall. Funds for the 60 x 110 foot steel building are included in the current budget. Once the new building is complete, the present storage building on N. Cedar St. can be torn down, he said.

The city contribution to last weekend's snowmobile derby was an estimated $753, Noe said. Included in the figure is tract site preparation, snow hauling, equipment use and police services.

Before adjourning, Councilman Thor Reque reported on the Michigan Municipal League meeting he and DeMars recently attended in Lansing.

$25 Million Suit Is Still Pending

DETROIT (AP) — A federal judge has denied a motion by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc., a major stockbroker, to dismiss a $25 million damages suit against the brokerage firm by a Texas investor and the Bank of the Commonwealth.

U.S. District Judge Ralph Freeman turned down the motion Monday.

The bank and investor James Simon of Dallas charged that Merrill Lynch and its officers and agents made "improper, irresponsible, misleading, deceptive, fraudulent and negligent statements, advertisements, representations and acts" concerning Scientific Control Corp., a Carrollton, Tex., computer component manufacturer.

The bank said it loaned $4.8 million to the firm, accepting stock as security, on the basis of Merrill Lynch's interest in the firm.

Scientific Control filed for bankruptcy last Nov. 21.
